Division of Endocrinology, Diabetes & Metabolism

Academic Position Summary:

- The Division of Endocrinology, Diabetes, and Metabolism at Weill Cornell Medicine is seeking an outstanding candidate for a full-time Assistant Professor physician-scientist with research interests related to metabolic bone disease. The successful candidate will be engaged in high-impact, cutting-edge research using clinical and translational approaches at the interface of artificial intelligence and clinical medicine to address critical questions in calcium, vitamin D, parathyroid, and bone disorders, with extensive past publications in this area and future grant submissions to NIH and other funding agencies.
- Weill Cornell Medicine (WCM) is the medical school of Cornell University. Faculty members have clinical appointments at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital (NYPH), one of the largest and most comprehensive academic medical centers in the nation and one of New York City's top-ranked hospitals.

Academic Responsibilities:

- This clinician-scientist position includes duties consisting of up to 6 busy ambulatory sessions per week. Interested candidates are required to bring in external funding to support their non-clinical research time.

Medical Education Requirements:

- Candidates must maintain an M.D or comparable foreign medical degree
- Certification by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM) in endocrinology, diabetes and metabolism, and preferably certification by The American Board of Obesity of Medicine
- A valid and active medical license in the state you wish to practice

Academic Appointment Requirements:

- Academic rank of Instructor in Medicine typically includes 1-3 years of academic experience. Assistant Professor of Medicine typically includes 4-6 years of academic experience with first author scholarship related to the clinical field and teaching.

Clinical Appointment Requirements:

- Appointment as an Assistant Attending Physician of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital (NYPH) will be contingent upon approval of the WCM academic appointment. Hospital attending and/or consultation privileges will be limited to WCM and NYP-Lower Manhattan Hospital, unless otherwise specifically agreed to in writing by the Medical College Dean.

Professional Licenses and Certifications:

- A valid New York State medical license, DEA license, board certification, and all applicable certification and/or credentialing specific to the medical specialty; must meet the qualifications to enroll and participate in all third-party payer insurance plan credentialing.

Competencies:

- Must remain compliant with all WCM and NYPH initiatives, to include completion of the WCM academic annual self- assessment and completion of NYPH annual ongoing professional peer evaluation.

Compensation and Benefits:

- We offer highly competitive and excellent benefits, including 403B, CME, malpractice including tail coverage, LTD and life insurance, and tuition reimbursement for qualified employees and dependents.
- Rank commensurate with experience.
- Salary ranges, not including bonuses, administrative supplement for specific director roles, and clinical incentive compensation of benefits:

Assistant Professors: $180,000-$228,000

Weill Cornell Medicine provides the above salary ranges in compliance with the New York City law on Salary Transparency in Job Advertisements. The salaries listed are for full-time employment, not including bonuses, clinical incentive compensation, or benefits. Actual salaries depend on a variety of factors including but not limited to experience, internal equity, specialty, training, and hospital/community needs. The salary ranges for New York City based roles represent WCM's good faith and reasonable estimate of possible compensation at the time of posting.
